Research Interest:

My research interest revolves around enquiring how an Islamic legal concept impacts on a real-world context. I am particularly interested in investigation of impacts of Islamic principles on contemporary human rights problems. Specific areas of research interest are:

1. Slavery and Islam;
2. Human Rights in Islamic Perspective;
3. Business Ethics in Islamic Perspective;
4. Authentication of Hadith Materials;
5. Islamic Feminism

Research Works:

PhD Research

The University of Dhaka conferred on me a PhD Degree for the dissertation titled "Human Rights in UN Instruments and Islam". In the thesis, after exploring compatibility and incompatibility between major international standards of human rights and their Islamic counterparts, I specified some modes to bring the Islamic traditional elements closer to the UN international standards of human rights.
