

Department of History
University of Dhaka

Syllabus for M. Phil Course in History
Two written papers of 100 marks each
(Effective from 2010-11)

The following courses are suggested for the M. Phil programme:

- Research Methodology
- Social and Economic History of Ancient Bengal
- Social and Economic History of the Sultanate or of the Mughal period
- National Movements (19th and 20th centuries)
- Social Changes and Public Opinion in Bengal (19th and 20th centuries)
- Subaltern Studies
- Economic History of South Asia till 1971
- Constitutional Developments in British India, 1858- 1947
- Local Administration in British India
- Women's Studies in South Asia
- Social and Religious Movements in Bengal (18th and 19th centuries)
- Environmental History of Modern South Asia
- Nationalism and Decolonization
- Challenges in the post -colonial states
- Foreign policies of small states
- Bangladesh in World Affairs
- South Asia and Big Powers
- Historical Geographic of Bengal (from Ancient Times to 1971).